Proposed Changes to CAA Scheme of Charges

Aerial Application Certificates Scheme Enclosure

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 Details of revisions proposed to apply from 1 April 2012 are shown in red within this Enclosure. Current charges are shown in brackets where direct comparison is possible.

2 CHARGES

Charges are payable to the CAA as follows:

2.1 Grant or renewal of an aerial application certificate

Upon making application for the grant or renewal of an aerial application certificate, the applicant shall pay:

a) a charge of £2,196 (£2,153); and

b) a charge of £308 (£302) in respect of each aircraft specified in the certificate.

2.2 Variation application charges

Upon making an application for the variation of an aerial application certificate to specify an additional aircraft in the certificate, the applicant shall pay a charge of £308 (£302) in respect of each additional aircraft to be specified.

(New Charge)

Declaration – non-commercial operations by complex motor-powered aircraft

Upon making an application specified in Table (A) for initial declaration or variation to the initial declaration, the applicant shall pay in accordance with that Table:

Table (A):

Application Type	Charge
Initial declaration	£113
Variation to declaration	£82

(Note for the consultation: An annual charge will be proposed by the CAA in time for the 2013/14 Scheme of Charges and shall be subject to industry consultation during 2012.)

2.3 Copies of documents

Upon making an application for the issue by the CAA of a copy or replacement of a document issued under Article 131 of the Order, the applicant shall pay a charge of £22 (£22).
