Independent review of the Civil Aviation Authority's Airspace Change Process

Survey Data

Survey data

The following note contains the raw data from the stakeholder survey conducted as part of the evidence gathering phase of this work. The data is broken down question by question for additional clarity.

To reflect the opinion of different stakeholder groups survey results were classified according to whether the respondent represented the local community surrounding an airport (COM), change sponsors and industry (CSI) and the general aviation community (GA). This breakdown is provided below:

Please rank your greatest concerns with Government policy and guidance. (1 = greatest concern). You must make at least one choice but will not be able to make more than two choices.

Respondent ID	If this theme does not interest you, please select option 1 here.	The Government has not given sufficient backing to the implementation of the Future Airspace Strategy, nor stated its economic value and importance to the UK.	The role of the Secretary of State for Transport is inappropriate or ill-defined in relation to airspace changes.	Government policy and guidance is insufficient to allow the CAA and airspace change stakeholders and sponsors to fully understand the Government's objectives.	The aviation noise policy (based around the 57dB LAeq metric) does not adequately reflect the actual perception of communities to the disturbance caused by aircraft, particularly following the introduction of Performance Based Navigation which concentrates aircraft on narrow routes. Please rank your greatest concerns with the Airspace Change Process. (1 = greatest concern). You must make at least one choice but will not be able to make more than two choices.

Respondent ID	If this theme does not interest you, please select option 1 here.	The CAA is unable to sponsor airspace changes that are in the public interest and has to find / wait for a third party to do it.	There is no appeal mechanism in the ACP process other than judicial review.	The costs associated with an airspace change and the risk of not gaining approval can deter sponsors from proposing changes.	Sponsors are not minimising the size of controlled airspace sought.	The Post Implementation Review (conducted after implementation of an airspace change) does not adequately consider all impacts or engage with all stakeholders.	Other (Please specify in comment box).

Please rank your greatest concerns with CAA guidance. (1 = greatest concern). You must make at least one choice but will not be able to make more than two choices.

Respondent ID	If this theme does not interest you, please select option 1 here.	The language within CAP 725 is too passive, allowing sponsors too much freedom to choose what they do.	There is a lack of clarity of the interpretation for key words and phrases such as "effective use of airspace", "significant detrimental impact" and "mitigate such impact to the maximum extent".	There is too much ambiguity, so that what a sponsor must do and should do are not adequately defined.	sponsor and does not consider the	The CAA does not ensure sponsors adequately follow the guidance.	The requirements on when community consultation must be undertaken are not clear enough.	If community consultation is appropriate there is no guidance on the geographical area where it should be focussed.	Other (Please specify in comment box).

Respondent ID	If this theme does not interest you, please select option 1 here.	The CAA does not adequately set out the policy or criteria it considers when evaluating an airspace change, e.g. how is noise impact balanced against additional airspace capacity?	The criteria considered are fundamentally wrong, e.g. noise is currently the primary environmental factor over land up to 4,000ft but this altitude is too low.	The consultation document and the decision letter do not provide sufficient objective evidence and evaluation to justify the decision.	The noise impact is not adequately assessed by the range of noise metrics given in CAP 725.	The Government has not directed the CAA to specifically consider the economic impact of an airspace change when considering its merits.	Other (Please enter in comment box).

Please rank your greatest concerns with role of the CAA (1 = greatest concern). You must make at least one choice but will not be able to make more than two choices.

ant ID	If this theme does not interest you, please select option 1 here.	The role of the CAA within the airspace change process is not adequately defined.	The CAA is not sufficiently distanced from airspace strategy to fairly evaluate an airspace change request.	There is not enough transparency to determine if the CAA challenges the objectives, evidence or conclusions of sponsors sufficiently to ensure that a balanced process has been conducted.	The CAA spends too much time challenging and examining the work of the sponsors, resulting in cost escalation and delay in the process.	There is not enough transparency to determine if the CAA is adequately supervising / monitoring sponsors to ensure that they are being open, honest and thorough in their considerations and communications.	The CAA is too involved in the process with the sponsors prior to the formal airspace change submission to be able to evaluate it in an independent manner.	Other (Please enter in comment box).

For which of the following changes do you strongly agree, strongly disagree or hold no strong opinion?

Policy/Public interest ACPs:

Respondent ID	CAA should be able to sponsor airspace changes that are overwhelmingly in the public interest but have little or no benefit for commercial organisations.	The CAA should be able to contract another organisation to sponsor airspace changes.

Policy > Volume of controlled airspace requested:

Respondent ID	Sponsors should provide better objective evidence that the minimum airspace volume / restriction has been proposed.	Sponsors should be able to propose a phased airspace change linked to a measureable need, e.g. quantity of traffic, increase in observation reports.

Policy > Scope of Post Implementation Review (PIR):

Respondent ID	The PIR should consider all impacts of the airspace change and provide evidence of how the actual impact compares with the estimated impact assessed before the change.	Consultees should be invited to contribute evidence to the PIR.	The CAA should be able to commence a PIR before 12 months have elapsed after implementation if the change is causing impacts that are not "reasonable" in relation to those anticipated.

Engagement and consultation > Meaningful:

Respondent ID	Consultation should commence earlier in the process, so that stakeholders can have more meaningful engagement when they can still influence the thinking and options being considered.	The mechanism to identify consultees should be clarified.	Consultation material should to be made more accessible for all / a range of audiences.	Consultation documents should be self- explanatory and not rely on cross referencing other documents.	Community consultation should use multiple mechanisms to communicate and educate members of the public about the proposed change.	Consultation should include accessible public meetings to explain the airspace change and answer questions.	Consultees should be able to ask questions of the sponsor and receive answers within a reasonable timeframe.

Engagement and consultation > Access to/involvement of the CAA:

Respondent ID	Engagement should not be led by the sponsor, but rather by the CAA.	Consultees should be able to submit written evidence to the CAA.	The CAA should attend public meetings organised by the sponsors to inform attendees of what the sponsor is required to do and to answer questions about the process.

Trust > Transparency:

Respondent ID	The CAA should publish all documentation from an airspace change application as soon as possible in the process.	The minutes of the Framework Briefing should be published as soon as they are agreed, so that all stakeholders can understand what proportionality of the process has been agreed and the extent of engagement and consultation required.	The airspace change submission and the evaluation documents (annexes) prepared by the CAA should be published with or shortly after the decision letter.	Sponsors should be required to publish all of the airspace change documentation, including the airspace change submission at the same time as submitting it to the CAA.	The CAA decision letter should provide sufficient justification and objective evidence to support the decision.

Trust > Remit and openness of the CAA:

Respondent ID	The CAA should better explain its role, involvement and how it interacts with sponsors.	The CAA should be accessible to stakeholders to ask questions about the process and requirements put on sponsors.	If an airspace change has generated controversy and / or has not been able to agree mitigations with all stakeholders then the CAA should make the announcement in public to explain its rationale.

Decision making > CAA policy and evaluation criteria:

Respondent ID	The CAA should provide further details of its policy and criteria for evaluating airspace changes in different situations.	There should be guidance as to how one criterion is balanced against another.	The CAA should ensure their evaluation of airspace change identifies the criteria considered and justification for how these were balanced in coming to its decision.	The economic benefit delivered by an airspace change should be part of the CAA's consideration.

Decision making > Noise assessment:

Respondent ID	The CAA should ensure that the noise metrics used adequately reflect the noise impact as perceived by communities and not just those "significantly impacted" as defined by the 57 dB LAeq.	The noise metrics the CAA is allowed to consider when evaluating an airspace change proposal should be broadened.	independent teams with no common management structure below Chief Executive.	The noise assessment should be modelled and evaluated by independent organisations.
