Dear Sir

Glasgow Prestwick Airport – GNSS (RNAV) - Airspace Change Procedure (ACP) Submission – Renaming of TRN STARS

[REDACTED]

Please accept this letter as confirmation that Glasgow Prestwick Airport will progress the renaming of the TRN STARS as part of our ACP. This ACP is still targeting a February 2019 implementation date.

We acknowledge the issue with the Prestwick STAR and transition naming conventions.

In order to rectify this the Basic Designator 'TRN' of the Prestwick TRN STARS will be changed to match the significant point at the beginning of each of the three procedures (as per the revised ICAO compliant naming convention).

This will also ensure that the transitions and STARS do not share the same basic designator. However the Prestwick TRN transition procedure names will not be changed, as they are already named after their starting point.

We will act as the sponsor for this additional change however we acknowledge that the STARS remain under the responsibility of NATS (NERL) PC.

The STAR name changes have been listed below:

- The current conventional TRN 1C STAR will be renamed as BLACA 1K
- The current RNAV TRN 2D STAR will be renamed as RIBEL 1P
- The current RNAV TRN 1B STAR will be renamed as APPLE 1P

We can confirm that we have been in communication with NATS (NERL) PC who fully support the STAR name changes.

The AIP Change Request related to the STAR name changes will be completed and submitted by NATS PC who have also confirmed that this can be accommodated from a training stance.

NATS (NERL) PC have also confirmed that they will conduct a full review of the other EGPK STARs, within 6 months of receiving a positive decision for this ACP, and [REDACTED] has confirmed today (by email) that NERL are happy to support the STAR name changes

Please confirm that this satisfies the requirements for this ACP to be progressed. If you need any further actions or clarifications please don't hesitate to contact me.
