Section 3 – Course Approval Routes

There are two routes available to providers of the Free Running Explosive Detection Dog Handler's Course (FREDD Handler's course). Both routes require approval from the DfT for the training provider.

Route A recognises the existing National Association of Security Dog Users (NASDU) Level 4 Explosive Detection Dog Handler course as equivalent to our course requirements and does not require approval of training materials or an observation of a course – approval is given based on recognising the equivalence of the NASDU course.

Route B is based on the provider designing a course specifically based on the UK NASP FREDDs Training Syllabus, which requires the submission and approval of all associated training materials and an observation and assessment of the course as delivered for the purpose of approval.

Please select course approval route:

Route A: If selected please provide membership number:

Route B:
