Dear XXXX

I am writing in respect of your recent request of 13 September 2015 for the release of information held by the Civil Aviation Authority (CAA).

Your request:

I wish to obtain information in relation to lightning strikes on airliners flying between USA & UK between the dates 28/07/2014 & 29/07/2014 inclusive. Specifically, I am interested in lightning strikes affecting Norwegian Air Shuttle.

Our response:

Having considered your request in line with the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA), we are able to provide the information below.

Incident reports are provided to the CAA under the terms of the Mandatory Occurrence Reporting (MOR) scheme, as described under Article 226 of the Air Navigation Order 2009 (ANO). Each report made is reviewed and, where appropriate, further investigation carried out and action taken.

We have carried out a search of the CAA database for any report which includes a lightning strike involving any commercial aircraft operation on airliners flying between the USA and the UK for either 28 or 29 July 2014, and we do not hold a report.

However, the Norwegian Civil Aviation Authority is the responsible authority for collecting occurrence reports relating to Norwegian operators and we would not routinely expect to receive a report relating to Norwegian Air Shuttle unless an event was reported by UK Air Traffic Control.

For more information about the Mandatory Occurrence Reporting scheme, please refer to CAP382 which can be found at: www.caa.co.uk/cap382.

If you are not satisfied with how we have dealt with your request in the first instance you should approach the CAA in writing at:-

Should you remain dissatisfied with the outcome you have a right under Section 50 of the FOIA to appeal against the decision by contacting the Information Commissioner at:-
