Dear [Redacted],

I am writing in respect of your recent request of 28 March 2017, for the release of information held by the Civil Aviation Authority (CAA). Your request has been considered in line with the provisions of the Freedom of Information Act 2000 (FOIA).

Your request:

'We would like to ask you for some statistical information regarding the registration of hot air balloons in your country.

We would need to find out how many hot air balloons were registered in the United Kingdom for the last 5 years.
How many balloons are registered and who are their manufacturers.'

Our response:

Following clarification of your request, you have confirmed that you are interested in data relating to newly constructed balloons (e.g. aircraft manufactured in the last 5 years). Please find below the information you have requested.

Information Rights Officer
CAA INTERNAL REVIEW & COMPLAINTS PROCEDURE

- The original case to which the appeal or complaint relates is identified and the case file is made available;

- The appeal or complaint is allocated to an Appeal Manager, the appeal is acknowledged and the details of the Appeal Manager are provided to the applicant;

- The Appeal Manager reviews the case to understand the nature of the appeal or complaint, reviews the actions and decisions taken in connection with the original case and takes account of any new information that may have been received. This will typically require contact with those persons involved in the original case and consultation with the CAA Legal Department;

- The Appeal Manager concludes the review and, after consultation with those involved with the case, and with the CAA Legal Department, agrees on the course of action to be taken;

- The Appeal Manager prepares the necessary response and collates any information to be provided to the applicant;

- The response and any necessary information is sent to the applicant, together with information about further rights of appeal to the Information Commissioners Office, including full contact details.
